REBATE

REAP THE BENEFITS OF BEING A HIGH WEST ENERGY MEMBER WHEN YOU ELECTRIFY AND SAVE.

If you're receiving this ad, it means you're a member of High West Energy (we only mail this magazine to members) and you're eligible for rebates from your electric cooperative (that's us).

Spring is here and there are several ways to upgrade your home this season. Even better, we're here to help you with dozens of incentives for electrifying your life.

Have you considered battery-operated, outdoor power equipment?

Ditch the cords and save this year when you upgrade your lawn equipment. From electric lawn mowers and weed trimmers to chainsaws and leaf blowers, you can save up to 25% off ($25-$150 per item) on battery-powered tools. These rebates are good for equipment purchased locally or online and each account can get up to $300 in incentives.

Ready for a kitchen upgrade?

High West Energy offers a $350 rebate for induction cooktops or induction ranges in new construction or homes that are replacing gas or propane cooking appliances. Induction cooktops cook faster and are safer for your family. The cooking element stays cool to the touch and because it's electric, there isn't potential for gas leaks. If you already have an electric range or cooktop, we will still provide an incentive of $100 for switching to an induction cooktop.

Thinking about switching to an electric vehicle?

Imagine never going to the gas station again. That's a reality when you switch from a gasoline or diesel-powered car and get behind the wheel of an electric vehicle (EV). EVs cost less to operate than gas-powered vehicles and provide a quiet, smooth ride. High West Energy can help you make the switch by saving you a rebate of $500 when you install a qualifying electric charger.

CELEBRATING OUR LINEWORKERS

Jared Routh

CEO / General Manager

National Lineworker Appreciation Day is Monday, April 11, and at High West Energy we're taking a moment to pause and celebrate the dedication of our lineworkers.

Every year, we take time to appreciate the men and women who put their lives on the line to bring power to the people. Whether it's a sunny day or a brutally cold winter night, our lineworkers spring into action when called upon. Through storms and catastrophic events, they navigate challenging jobs to keep the lights on. It's not a glamorous job, in fact it's known to be one of our nation's toughest. But tough jobs are for tough people and I'm proud of the team we have at High West. They worked hard in 2021 to make sure our service was reliable for you, our members.

In addition to our lineworkers, we celebrate the hard work of our entire distribution and transmission maintenance staff. We would be lost without the skill and talents of our substation and operation technicians who work tirelessly behind the scenes. These teams are an essential piece of our operation.

When you're a member of High West Energy, you can rest easy knowing there's a team that's working together to serve you. Day or night. Rain or shine.

I want to say a sincere thank you to our entire team for their hard work, and a thank you to their families for the sacrifice. If you know a lineworker, I hope you'll join me in applauding our incredible crew.
